Muddy Shoe Productions Launches New Website

TV and Film production firm shares details on upcoming projects in development: Rosie and Company Man

February 5th, 2015

Feb. 5, 2015 - HOUSTON -- Doug Kramer, founder and CEO of Muddy Shoe Productions, a film and television production company with offices in Texas and California, announced the launch of the company's new website <http://muddyshoe.com> (<http://muddyshoe.com/>)

Formerly of Druthers Media, Kramer explained that he needed a platform to share his upcoming projects, Rosie, and Company Man, both of which have been green lighted and are currently in production.

"I know everyone in the entertainment business uses IMDB so we wanted to make sure we have another platform to keep our stakeholders informed of what's going on at Muddy Shoe," he said.

Kramer has written original stories and screenplays that are currently in development with expected release dates in 2015.

ROSIE is a story about Rosie Concepción, an intelligent, likeable East L.A. diner waitress whose hobby is getting dressed up and pretending she's a typical Beverly Hills patron of Rodeo Drive boutiques.

COMPANY MAN is a suspense / thriller feature film about three friends living in New York City, junior players on Wall Street who go to Bangkok for some fun, so they thought....
